15 million this fiscal year for all of CA and Arizona border. I believe all the local stakeholders are going to meet over the next couple months to give us their

Dear Michael,

I enjoyed the meeting in Coronado, however, I did not see a concrete path forward for the creation of a master plan which can then be used to obtain funding and end the sewage mess once and for all.

I believe that there are many disparate parts and initiatives but no concrete plan which was mentioned by Mayor Faulconer.

Also, I was surprised at the size of your budget. 11 million seems very small for the entire border region. Did I hear you correctly?

I look forward to your comments.

Dear Border Partners,

I want to thank you for participating in the Tijuana and New River Transboundary Pollution Stakeholder meeting in Coronado earlier this week. Your continued participation and engagement is critically important to further advance our collective goal to stem the flow of transboundary pollution. This is one of my top priorities as Regional Administrator of EPA's Pacific Southwest Region and I very much appreciate your respective contributions and efforts to address this pressing problem. In the next week, my staff will forward copies of the presentations and key highlights and action items from the meeting. As always call or email anytime I can be of assistance.
